Be sure the Lot numbers and amount of bids are correctly entered. It is better to itemize the pieces under the head of "Remarks," and help to avoid mistakes.

Our patrons should bear in mind that where we criticise coins in the slightest degree, it has the effect of injuring them more in the estimation of the intended bidders than should be the case. If we say, Struck from broken die, few nicks and dents, a slight scratch, slightly tarnished, weakly struck, etc., there is really no serious defect in the piece and many items so described are in reality fine specimens, and should be thus considered.
